PART B - PROGRAM INFORMATION

PREP has both educational and evaluative components. Depending on the accommodation requested, candidates may not require accommodation for all components of the program. Detailed program schedules are available for review on our website and include release dates and deadlines for program deliverables.

Exam Accommodations

The Capstone Evaluation is the final assessment to determine whether a candidate achieves a successful result in PREP.

The assessment: The Capstone Evaluation is a standardized exam. This is different than other tasks for which a candidate may have been approved for accommodations such as a non-standardized assessment in university. For example, a university may have approved an accommodation of unlimited time or preferential scheduling, but these accommodations would not be appropriate for a standardized exam. All assessments must be completed by a strict deadline to ensure integrity of the assessment and timely calibration and release of results for that cohort.

The setting: The Capstone Evaluation is administered online during five days spread over a set two-week period. In the oral skills week, candidates have two days to complete three scheduled oral skills assignments: a 30-minute (total time) simulated client interview, a 45-minute (total time) negotiation exercise, and a 15-minute (per candidate time) oral advocacy exercise. In the written skills week, candidates have three days to complete six scheduled written assignments in the areas of legal research, writing, drafting, ethics, practice management, and client relationship management. Capstone Evaluation days are scheduled between 9:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. in the candidate's local time with one hour of unscheduled break time and 30 minutes of unscheduled reading time.

Program Accommodations

There are three educational phases of PREP: Foundation Modules, Foundation Workshops, and Virtual Law Firm, all of which are delivered virtually. There are progression requirements for each educational phase, but the Capstone Evaluation remains the final assessment to determine whether a candidate achieves a successful result in PREP.

Are you requesting accommodation for the educational phases of PREP?

Foundation Modules and Workshops

The Foundation Modules consist of 12 online self-directed learning modules that provide PREP candidates with a foundation for all PREP competencies. Candidates' complete activities, quizzes, assignments and reflections throughout the Foundation Modules, as well as prepare for workshops which are interspersed throughout the Foundation Modules period. Candidates have access to all modules when the phase opens along with the recommended order of completion so that candidates can be prepared for workshop activities. If their time permits, candidates can work ahead and complete modules ahead of the workshop schedule.

The Foundation Workshops consist of six skill-building workshops, where the candidate can begin to apply what they learned in the Foundation Modules. The workshops are interspersed throughout the Foundation Modules to provide immediate opportunities to practice base skills in a safe learning environment, connect with peers, and help prepare candidates to manage legal matters in the upcoming phase.

Please confirm the details of your requested accommodation for the Foundation Modules and Workshops. A specific rationale for each requested accommodation must clearly explain the functional limitations that significantly impact your participation in the program and identify how your requested accommodation(s) will reduce or remove specific barriers to participation.

Virtual Law Firm

The Virtual Law Firm (VLF) is an experiential learning phase where candidates work on simulated client files, applying their knowledge through 13-15 assignments. These assignments cover topics in client interaction, professional practice, and legal skills. This phase consists of written and oral assignments.

Please confirm the details of your requested accommodation for the Virtual Law Firm. A specific rationale for each requested accommodation must clearly explain the functional limitations that significantly impact your participation in the program and identify how your requested accommodation(s) will reduce or remove specific barriers to participation.

PART C – SUPPORTING DOCUMENTATION

Supporting documentation is important to help CPLED staff understand the type of accommodations which will enable an candidate's full participation in their program.

Supporting Documentation

Are you providing supporting documentation with your application?

Yes

No

If yes, check all that apply (and attach them with your submission):

Information in support of the current need for accommodation.

Evidence of past accommodations on a high-stakes standardized exam (i.e., LSAT, GMAT, etc.)

Do you have medical supporting documentation?

Yes

Nο

If yes, please also have your medical professional complete PART D - MEDICAL INFORMATION which includes an individualized evaluation report from a qualified medical or mental health professional, nurse practitioner, physician assistant, physical therapist, or other wellness professional involved in your ongoing treatment, therapy, or assistance. Before completing Part D, please note the following critical considerations:

- Documentation should be legible, signed, dated, and printed on CPLED's application form or the medical professional's letterhead.
- Documentation should include neutral, unbiased, objective professional assessments beyond restating your diagnosis or symptoms. A specific rationale for each requested accommodation must clearly explain the functional limitations that significantly impact your participation in the program and identify how your requested accommodation(s) will reduce or remove specific barriers to participation.
- Supporting documentation should be as current as possible, but CPLED will review supporting documentation from up to 2 years ago, provided the candidate was an adult at the time the documentation was issued. Older documentation may be considered on a case-by-case basis (for example, if a disability has existed since childhood and the candidate's accommodation needs remain unchanged).
- Computer-generated reports or printouts of medical records are not required and should not be sent.
- Documentation from friends or family members, even if otherwise qualified, will not be accepted.
